Creating bold work that reimagines pertinent global intercultural narratives and joyfully celebrates the intersectionality of modern lived experiences. ## WORK

Jaivant Patel Dance's productions have a unique role in the UK dance ecology as currently being the only independent company that is touring work nationally. Amplifying South-Asian LGBTQ+ narratives, with Queer, Transgender and Intersex People of Colour (QTIPOC) perspectives as a priority.

Jaivant Patel Dance's bold works provoke a dialogue in their reinvention and reimagining of contemporary narratives that recontextualise the queer body space. They reclaim inherited notions and stereotypes surrounding contemporary British South-Asian identity.

Tour ready works include the award-nominated production YAATRA and dance film, I Am Your Skin.
Available to book now.

New work entitled, Waltzing The Blue Gods (with live music).
Available for touring from May 2023.

These works advocate for change in the global visibility, creative process and artistic practice of South-Asian artforms. South-Asian dance forms/aesthetics inform the creation of multi-layered contemporary work with its own idiosyncratic, modern language to re-imagine the artform in saying something powerful and resonant for audiences used to a diversity of cultural influences.
